

Firm represents one of world's wealthiest men

Not long ago the firm represented the brother of one of the world's wealthiest men in a dispute with an internationally known Beverly Hills designer. Dick was responsible for handling this high-profile $50 million case, that required very creative litigation and appellate strategy. The case was very hotly litigated for many months and ultimately settled on very favorable terms with our client paying virtually nothing in the settlement.